Fund Objective & Asset Allocation

Stellar One (the Fund) aims to achieve positive outsized absolute returns over rolling 12-month periods, regardless of market conditions. We run an unconstrained multi-asset strategy, taking advantage of asymmetric opportunities as they arise. Our multi-level targets are achieved by concentrating exposure in the most attractive asset risk/reward profiles globally, with a core focus on downside risk to limit capital loss.

Given the Fund concentration returns tends to differ significantly from the market and cluster around stock and/or macro events.

Monthly Commentary

- ❑ The Fund (+2.2%) had an okay start to the year, performing in line with global equities (+2.2%), but lagging our hedge fund peer group (HFRI FWI +3.0%).
  - Emerging markets (+8.9%), commodities (Bloomberg Commodity Index +10.5%), and AI infrastructure related stocks performed exceptionally well.
  - Silver (+43%) euphoria pushed the precious metal to an all-time high of $121.62 on 29Jan - before crashing back to levels where it started the year (more recently).
  - The US software sector and momentum factor started to fade in late Jan, as earnings beats weren't enough to keep investor enthusiasm going - when stocks start to fall on good news one should take note = a signal that investor sentiment is peaking.
  - Investors have begun to question the extreme CAPEX spend to win the AI race and the disruptive threat posed by AI to software, gaming, and (new) legacy tech stocks.
- ❑ The Fund benefited from its commodity and emerging market exposure, where US holdings detracted late in the month as market breadth narrowed and risk aversion rose.
  - We used commodity and emerging market strength to take profits and reduce active risk.
  - Active equities were reduced by 26ppts to 47.6% and our physical uranium position sold (5% position).
- ❑ February is off to a rocky start, and we don't think it's all over just yet...
  - Precious metals & cryptos crashed (>20%) in the first week of Feb, with record breaking wealth destruction consequences yet to be seen.
  - US software and momentum stocks experienced a multi-sigma selloff week comparable with periods during the 2008 (GFC), 2020 (COVID crash), and 2022 (Growth) shocks.
  - Technical damage has been done and liquidity conditions are unlikely to improve in the short-term, as we approach Chinese New Year (CNY) and the Fed moves into wait & see mode. Hedge funds and CTAs are likely to continue de-grossing.
- ❑ We continue to favour hard assets, emerging markets, and idiosyncratic US consumer stocks. A 5% equity market correction would be healthy.
  - The Trump-Xi Summit in April and new Fed Chair (Warsh) start in May hold the key to the US mid-terms and market outlook.
